

The Best Moment studying with RDI 2

Distant learning allows me to study anytime and anywhere. It is a carefree learning experience since the mode of learning makes me easier to pay attention

Chiu, University of Wales, BA Business student

I enjoy the most is the staff supports from RDI. Studying while having a job isn't easy, RDI has everything well organized and easily accessed. My working hours are unstable but I still manage to get the information I missed from staff and tutorials rearranged, so that I can finish my assignments and take exams on time and don't feel left behind

Chick, University of Bradford, BSc Level 2 student

It's really great that my friend introduce RDI to me for my further study of BSc programme. I learnt a lot of knowledge and the tutors of this programme are v. responsible and willing to answer the student's questions! Always support and will refer to my friends for their further study

Esther Lee, University of Bradford, BSc Level 2 student

As I live in Taiwan, I am in a different time zone than my UK University and one of the best things about RDI is having a Hong Kong branch here in Asia. This means that inquiries can be dealt with very quickly. In particular, Mrs. Doris Ng has been extremely efficient at answering queries and has been very patient. Even when there was a mix up at my Taiwan bank in wiring a payment to RDI Hong Kong, she very patiently gave answers to a number of questions and we managed to sort the issue out very quickly. Such back up is extremely important as students working online can feel isolated. Less time is wasted than having to wait for a reply from the UK, which is 8 hours behind us in time, potentially wasting a day's study time if there is a problem

Reading through the first few chapters of the first set text book I bought and realizing I had definitely done the right thing in going back to school

Fiona, University of Derby, BSc Psychology student

This intensive programme offer me a relatively short and substantial learning opportunity, the programme move so fast that it can shorten my studying time and need not abandon the job. In addition, the programme is full of flexibility and accredited by an honourable institution

Tsang, University of Bradford, BSc Level 3 student

Group discussion is the best moment studying at the centre. We can understand with tutor or other classmates and communicate interactively during the discussion. It helps us not only to improve presentation skill but also apply the theories

Chan, University of Bradford, BSc Level 3 student

The best moment studying with RDI Centre is when I grow from the stage of knowing nothing about psychology to someone who is now passionate with psychology. The changes are contributed to the best support from the module tutor and the interaction amongst students. Being an online student, it is not easy to master all the subjects as it requires high level of independency. However RDI learning has made my life easier. It will help to make my dream as being a psychologist comes true one day

Sheila Wong, University of Derby, BSc Psychology student

I have spent just 3 weeks online learning and I have best moment throughout my course
